ABOUT BALASYS

We have been delivering best-of-breed IT security solutions for two decades. Balasys is a leading vendor of proxy-based gateway technologies. Products we sell are used by a significant number of Fortune 100 companies, including global telecommunication, financial and government organizations. With a strong focus on network security, we provide flexible solutions in the field of perimeter defense, legacy server protection, API- and Industrial Control Systems (ICS) security.

Our highly qualified security engineers and developers can deliver customized solutions to enterprise customers across the globe. We are committed to innovation, work continuously on new product concepts, and regularly participate in various R&D projects across the EU.

Balasys is one of the largest One Identity competence centers in EMEA and a key value-added distributor of Quest in Hungary.

Balasys Proxedo Family

PROXEDO NETWORK SECURITY

Flexible Protection of Enterprise Networks

Proxedo Network Security (PNS) is a highly flexible, multipurpose network security suite which can granularly control traffic to protect enterprises from advanced cyber threats. PNS provides deep packet inspection (DPI) of regular and encrypted network communication and has the capability to filter and modify its content. Thanks to its flexible architecture and scriptable configuration, your organization can implement ANY security policy, including the Zero Trust model. With PNS, you can manage custom security problems which your firewalls are unable to solve.

- Separation of critical systems
- Network authentication
- Network monitoring & debugging
- Multi-layer threat detection
- Zero Trust security
- Network privacy & encryption
- Network security compliance & audit

PROXEDO API SECURITY

API Security Beyond WAF

Proxedo API Security is a specialized web application firewall exclusively for protecting API-endpoints. It helps your enterprise gain control over application traffic to prevent API breaches. Based on our deep packet inspection (DPI) technology, you can validate, encrypt, and analyze API traffic in detail. Thanks to our flexible architecture, you can enforce custom security policies without compromise. Proxedo API Security focuses specifically on API security, adding value even to your traditional WAF and API management tools.

- API breach prevention
- API traffic monitoring and analysis
- Protecting legacy applications
- API compliance and audit
- Security add-on for WAF & API management
